

Annual Updates to Item Selection Profiles

The U.S. Government Printing (GPO) has discovered that the program designed to move pending adds of tangible item numbers from libraries' selection baskets to their selection profiles on October 1 did not execute as expected. We believe that the problem has been identified, and we are working to correct it.

GPO is aware that libraries put a good deal of effort into updating their item selections, and we appreciate your patience as we work through the first selection update cycle with our new Depository Selection Information Management System (DSIMS).
